The Anniversary of V-E Day

On May 7, 1945, Germany surrendered to the Allies, ending World War II in Europe. The following day, May 8, was declared Victory in Europe Day, and this year marks the 75th anniversary of the momentous occasion.

After six years of conflict, unconditional surrender documents were signed in Reims, France, at the headquarters of U.S. Army Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, the commander of the Allied forces in Europe. As news of Germany's formal surrender spread, celebrations broke out in cities around the world. Massive crowds gathered in the streets for parties, parades, dancing and singing.

V-E Day also fell on the birthday of U.S. President Harry S. Truman, who had taken office only a few weeks earlier, after the death of President Franklin D. Roosevelt. In a statement, Truman dedicated the day to Roosevelt, who had led the country through most of the war.

Truman also reminded Americans that despite the victory, "much remains to be done," since the war with Japan continued. It would be another three months, in August 1945, before the battle in the Pacific theater would end.

Stay Active as You Age

Moving your body and staying active is the focus of National Senior Health and Fitness Day, the last Wednesday in May. Find inspiration in this year's theme and learn why "Life Is Better in Motion."

Helps prevent illness – High blood pressure, poor circulation, and high cholesterol are linked to conditions such as heart disease, stroke and Type 2 diabetes. These health risk factors can be reduced with regular exercise.

Boosts energy – The more you move, the more energy you'll have, helping you carry out everyday physical activities with less fatigue.

Lifts mood – Would you like to feel happier and more relaxed? The endorphins released during exercise can provide emotional perks. Taking part in physical activity can also improve confidence and self-esteem.

Improves sleep – A regular fitness routine can help you fall asleep more quickly, sleep more soundly and get better quality rest. Just avoid working out close to bedtime, since the energy boost may keep you awake.

Mandala Meditation

From a Sanskrit word meaning "circle," a mandala is a popular tool used in meditation, often representing wholeness. You may have seen a mandala without realizing what it was. Simply stated, it is a circular shape filled with repeating geometric patterns. Creating your own mandala – by drawing at least three concentric circles, then filling in the spaces between the circles with various shapes – can be therapeutic and relaxing. Coloring or painting pre-drawn mandalas has the same effect.

Simple Ways To Practice Mindfulness

- Savor a snack. Whether it's a crisp, fresh apple or a decadent candy bar, enjoy a snack slowly and deliberately. Close your eyes and think about the food's flavors and textures and the rhythm of your chewing.
- Enjoy nature – even from indoors. Look out your window to study birds and plants. Notice as much detail as you can. Or look at a nature photo from a book or the internet and gaze at it peacefully.
- Set aside specific times of the day to read a meaningful poem, quotation, mantra or prayer.
- Download a free guided meditation app. Search "meditation" in your device's app store to see available options.

A Dose of Deep Breathing

Deep breathing, also known as belly breathing, can help alleviate stress, increase relaxation and lower heart rate and blood pressure. You can do it almost anywhere. Breathe in slowly through your nose for four counts until your abdomen feels fully expanded, hold your breath for one count, then exhale through your mouth for five counts. Experts recommend doing this three times an hour.

Honoring Women in the Military

Nearly 3 million women have served in and with the U.S. military. The Women in Military Service for America Memorial honors the contributions of servicewomen past, present and future.

Dedicated in 1997, the memorial is located at the entrance to Arlington National Cemetery, outside the nation's capital. The 30,000-square-foot monument and museum is devoted to telling the stories of women who have helped defend the nation since the American Revolution.

Photos, uniforms and other artifacts are exhibited, documenting the many jobs women have held for the country's defense, from nurse to fighter pilot. A hall of honor recognizes those who gave the ultimate sacrifice, were held prisoners of war, or received awards for service and valor.

The heart of the memorial is an interactive, computerized register that has the goal of including every woman who has served. Currently, the database has the names, photos and histories of about 270,000 women, and visitors can look up their grandmother, mother or friend. Female veterans or family and friends of women veterans are encouraged to register at the memorial's website, WomensMemorial.org.

The memorial also honors women who have served in organizations that support the U.S. armed forces, including the Red Cross, USO and U.S. Public Health Service Cadet Nurse Corps.

The Story of the School Nurse

In communities across the country, school nurses offer care to students of all ages, safeguarding their health and education.

The history of this vital nursing specialty begins at the turn of the 20th century. Due to its growing population, New York City's public schools battled a rise in contagious infections among students. Despite hiring doctors to provide health screenings, the rates of illnesses and absences remained high until a woman named Lillian Wald stepped in.

A nurse who worked in low-income neighborhoods, Wald saw the need for children to receive basic health care at school. In 1902, she persuaded officials to hire the first public school nurse in America, Lina Rogers. In her first month on the job working at four schools, Rogers treated nearly 900 students and made over 100 home visits. Soon after, 27 more school nurses were hired, and within six months, health-related absenteeism dropped by a whopping 90%.

By the '20s, school nurses were working throughout the nation, treating minor conditions, providing first aid, and educating children and their families about preventive health care.

Today's school nurses fill a variety of needs, such as performing vision and hearing screenings, assisting students with chronic conditions and allergies, and providing resources for mental health.
