A Tribute to Korean War Veterans

More than 5 million men and women served in the U.S. armed forces during the Korean War. Dedicated on July 27, 1995, the Korean War Veterans Memorial, located on the National Mall in Washington, D.C., honors those who fought in the conflict from 1950 to 1953.

The memorial's most recognized feature is a triangle-shaped field with 19 stainless steel statues that represent the war's cross section of American service members from the Army, Marine Corps, Air Force and Navy. The 7-foot-tall figures appear to be moving toward an American flag that flies next to a reflective pool of remembrance. The reminder "Freedom is not free" is engraved on the pool's stone wall.

Another impactful feature is a black granite mural wall that shows thousands of images made from war photographs of military support personnel, including doctors, nurses and canine corps. The wall's polished surface also reflects the memorial's 19 statues, giving the illusion there are 38 figures. This number is symbolic of the 38 months the war lasted and the 38th parallel that separated North and South Korea.
