Resident Spotlight

This month's Resident Spotlight is all about the lovely Louise Dupee in Apartment 211!

Louise has lived here for about 5 1/2 years and loves to meet new people and make new friends. She's as cheerful as they come, and makes everyone in her presence feel special! She grew up and lived in Beverly for 87 years before moving here, and fondly remembers skating right up the street where the Shaw's Plaza is now! She was employed at "The Shoe" (United Shoe Machinery), now known as the Cummings Center, for 25 years, where she worked as the switchboard operator. She wed her loving husband in the front room of her home and was married for 44 years (possibly 46, but not 100 percent sure!).

Louise and Jasper

Louise is not a huge traveler, but more of a self-described homebody. However, she always talks about her happiest moments being at her cabin in Tamworth, N.H. And she misses it more than anything!

Anytime we have an entertainer, we all know what she will request: "You Are My Sunshine." I think the only thing she loves more than that song are her naps!

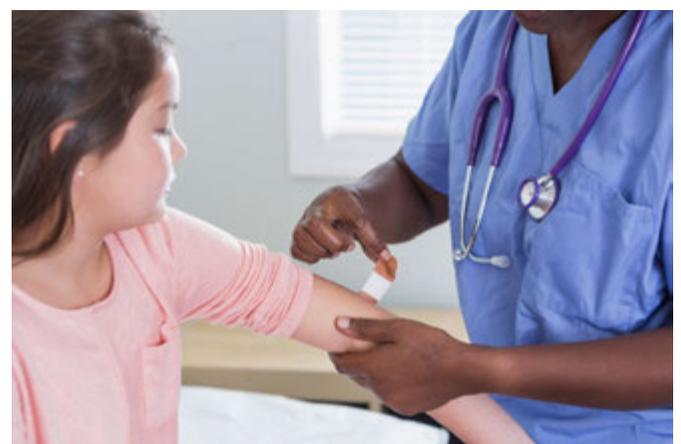

Louise, you are The Linden's sunshine!

The Story of the School Nurse

In communities across the country, school nurses offer care to students of all ages, safeguarding their health and education.

The history of this vital nursing specialty begins at the turn of the 20th century. Due to its growing population, New York City's public schools battled a rise in contagious infections among students. Despite hiring doctors to provide health screenings, the rates of illnesses and absences remained high until a woman named Lillian Wald stepped in.

A nurse who worked in low-income neighborhoods, Wald saw the need for children to receive basic health care at school. In 1902, she persuaded officials to hire the first public school nurse in America, Lina Rogers. In her first month on the job working at four schools, Rogers treated nearly 900 students and made over 100 home visits. Soon after, 27 more school nurses were hired, and within six months, health-related absenteeism dropped by a whopping 90%.

Mandala Meditation

From a Sanskrit word meaning "circle," a mandala is a popular tool used in meditation, often representing wholeness. You may have seen a mandala without realizing what it was. Simply stated, it is a circular shape filled with repeating geometric patterns. Creating your own mandala – by drawing at least three concentric circles, then filling in the spaces between the circles with various shapes – can be therapeutic and relaxing. Coloring or painting pre-drawn mandalas has the same effect.

Simple Ways To Practice Mindfulness

- Savor a snack. Whether it's a crisp, fresh apple or a decadent candy bar, enjoy a snack slowly and deliberately. Close your eyes and think about the food's flavors and textures and the rhythm of your chewing.
- Enjoy nature – even from indoors. Look out your window to study birds and plants. Notice as much detail as you can. Or look at a nature photo from a book or the internet and gaze at it peacefully.
- Set aside specific times of the day to read a meaningful poem, quotation, mantra or prayer.
- Download a free guided meditation app. Search "meditation" in your device's app store to see available options.

A Dose of Deep Breathing

Deep breathing, also known as belly breathing, can help alleviate stress, increase relaxation and lower heart rate and blood pressure. You can do it almost anywhere. Breathe in slowly through your nose for four counts until your abdomen feels fully expanded, hold your breath for one count, then exhale through your mouth for five counts. Experts recommend doing this three times an hour.

The Story of the School Nurse (Continued)

By the '20s, school nurses were working throughout the nation, treating minor conditions, providing first aid, and educating children and their families about preventive health care.

Today's school nurses fill a variety of needs, such as performing vision and hearing screenings, assisting students with chronic conditions and allergies, and providing resources for mental health.

Gardens Around the Globe

With blooming flowers and budding trees, a garden in springtime is an inviting place to enjoy nature's splendor. Take a virtual stroll through some of the world's grandest gardens.

Keukenhof – Called the “garden of Europe,” this park in the town of Lisse, in the western Netherlands, is famous for its brilliant display of Dutch tulips, along with daffodils, crocuses, hyacinths and bluebells. More than 7 million bulbs are planted each year for the burst of color that unfolds from March through May.

Gardens of Versailles – Commissioned by King Louis XIV in 1661, this formal French garden outside of Paris covers 2,000 acres on the grounds at the Palace of Versailles. Visitors can walk along topiary-lined pathways or ride a boat on the Grand Canal to view thousands of trees and flowering plants and hundreds of statues and fountains.

Nong Nooch Tropical Botanical Garden – The coastal city of Pattaya, Thailand, is home to 600 acres that showcase and conserve hundreds of native plants. Thai culture is also highlighted in dance performances and martial arts demonstrations.

Villa d'Este – The enchanted terraced gardens of this Renaissance-style estate in Tivoli, Italy, date back to the 16th century and are known for their elaborate water features, including waterfalls, fish ponds, and over 50 fountains, one of which plays organ music.

Putting Around

Windmills, pirate ships, dinosaurs and waterfalls are often par for the course when you're playing a round of miniature golf.

Early courses for the game didn't have the whimsical designs seen today. They were simply scaled-down golf courses for players to focus on their putting stroke. The first of these was created in 1867 at golf's birthplace, Scotland, for the St. Andrews Ladies' Putting Club. In the U.S., compact, putting-only courses with artificial greens became popular in the early 1900s, including more than 150 built on New York City rooftops.

The trend got a new twist in the late 1920s, when businessman Garnet Carter built a mini golf course outside his hotel on Lookout Mountain, near Chattanooga, Tenn. With its fairyland theme, quirky features such as gnome statues, and obstacles that included hollow logs, it was a hit with guests. Mini golf mania swept the nation, and by 1930, there were 25,000 courses in the U.S.

After a decline due to the Depression, mini golf teed off again in the 1950s. Today, it's an amusement for players of all ages, and the variety of silly course setups and hazards adds an element of surprise.

For those who like more serious competition, there are U.S. and international mini golf organizations that hold annual championship tournaments.
